Welcome to my website!

Consciouscafes.com is a thought creation which grew from years of educating, advocating, and collaborating. It not only provides a home for my writing portfolio, but it also allows space for creative, helpful, and diverse minds to come together. Some "cafes" promote my writing, editing or legacy services, and other "cafes" offer visitors an opportunity to learn about advocacy and intentional DEI entrepreneurship from my like-minded and highly creative partners in the San Francisco Bay Area. Allow me to assist if you are in search of:

- A fully-customized legacy book honoring a loved one's life
- Promotional ideas for your conscientious and inclusive business, organization, or service
- Educational tool development, coaching or mentoring as you advocate on behalf of underrepresented groups
- Writing, editing, or proofreading services
- A polymath lens

Because I value diversity, equity, and inclusion in my work life, personal life, and collaborative partnerships, I love promoting others who do the same. I surround myself with those who motivate, uplift and cultivate inclusion, especially advocates of older adults and children. If you are a caring and unique individual searching for a synergistic and free promotional space, please contact me! I look forward to connecting with you!

Stay mindful,

Brandy
